

Freedom Is Near for Invaders Families of Cuban Captives Hopeful

HAVANA (AP) — Release of 1,113 Cuban prisoners captured in the April 1961 invasion appeared imminent today. A negotiator for the families of the captives said it seemed that "all went well, thank God."

Apparently only a few formalities, such as the wording of the communique, remained to be settled before the men are set free and flown to the United States.

The optimistic impression came from Mrs. Berta Barreto de los Heros, Havana representative of the Cuban Families Committee. She refused to elaborate on her comment that all seemed well. She said she was pledged to silence during the final stage of the talks.

Speculate on Travel

The likelihood of an impending break was strengthened by a quick trip from Havana to Miami by New York attorney James B. Donovan, negotiator for the families' committee. Speculation arose that Donovan, who flew back to Havana Sunday night, had arranged special transportation to Florida for the prisoners.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government asked $62 million for all prisoners taken in the Bay of Pigs invasion. About 60 have been freed. Donovan said when he left for Havana last month that he would offer Castro medicine and food in lieu of a cash ransom.

Mrs. Barreto said that Donovan was to meet Castro again, possibly today.

Assaults U.S. Policy

In a speech opening the Latin American University Games Sunday night, Deputy Prime Minister Raul Castro assailed U.S. policies and declared any invasion force would face annihilation if it set foot on Cuban soil.

Castro, who is Fidel's brother and also armed forces minister, called the Bay of Pigs prisoners a "herd of traitors" and added, "If their masters want to rescue them, let them pay the price that has been fixed."

Donovan, who negotiated the swap of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers for Soviet spy Rudolf Abel last year, made his quick trip to Miami on an unscheduled Pan American World Airlines plane.

Speno Would Use Daylight Saving Time All Year

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — State Sen. Edward J. Speno, East Meadow Republican, proposes to have the state use daylight saving time all year largely as a traffic safety measure.

His joint legislative committee on motor vehicles and traffic safety will hold a public hearing on the proposal at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Hofstra College Little Theatre here.

Speno says an hour more of light during winter evening hours would reduce what he terms the disproportionate number of traffic accidents occurring at that time.

Also, he adds, "I believe we should have more light at a time when more of us are able to enjoy it, and that having to turn the clocks back this month is arbitrary and no longer in keeping with our 1962 way of life."

4 College Students Among 26 Killed During Weekend

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Four college students who died in a collision as they headed back to their campus after dates were among 26 persons who lost their lives in fatal accidents during the weekend.

Traffic accidents were responsible for 24 deaths during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday night. Two persons were killed in accidents of other types.

The students, all 20-year-old juniors at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, were killed early Sunday when their automobile and a U.S. Mail truck collided on Route 7 near the New York-Vermont line.

They were returning to the RPI campus in Troy after dates at Bennington College, Bennington, Vt.

They were David S. Michaelson of Valley Stream; John Zawacki of old Saybrook, Conn.; Douglas Stahl of Great Neck, and Richard Swan of Grand Island.

At Rome Saturday night, Harry Allman, 71, of Utica, was struck by two vehicles and killed as he tried to remove pieces of a football goal post from a divided highway.

Police had been notified a short time before that youngsters were throwing pieces of a goal post from a football field at Rome Free Academy onto the highway. Police had not arrived when Allman stopped his car and got out to remove the pieces of wood from the path of traffic.

JFK Busy Talking on Congress Campaign Covers Widened Sectors

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy kept his political briefcase handy today after a whirlwind tour through four Midwestern states appealing to voters to send more Democrats to Congress.

Wednesday night he will be off again, to Baltimore for a political rally.

Friday and Saturday he swings through New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Kentucky. More schedules are being lined up. His politicking will keep him on the road every weekend until the Nov. 6 election.

Same Theme

Throughout his campaigning during the weekend in Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota, Kennedy's theme was the same: He wants to get the country moving again, but Republicans block him on some of his major efforts.

In St. Paul Saturday night the President put it this way: "This country has many pieces of unfinished business. Many of the things that we hoped to do are still not done, but we are trying to do them."

"And we need members of the House and Senate who are committed, not merely to voting 'aye' and 'nay,' but participating in the legislative process, which makes it possible for this country to go ahead."

His Pitch Line

Then he winds up, as he did Saturday night, with a pitch like this:

"That is why I come here tonight, although I am not a candidate for office, asking your help on issue after issue, which will make it possible to educate your children, to find jobs for our citizens, to provide security for our older people, and to make this country the greatest country in the world, which it is, and which it must be if this world and the country are going to remain free."

This argument presents some difficulties:

1. Kennedy rarely mentions that he already has a pretty good majority of Democrats in the House and Senate. The House margin is 262 to 174, the Senate 64 to 36. He gets around this by ignoring defections and saying too many issues are settled, one way or another, by a couple of votes.

2. He passes over the fact that some Republicans support him on key issues more consistently than some Democrats.

3. Most important, though, is this: a president, no matter how great his prestige, has always had trouble transferring it to congressmen.

5 Civil Rights Defense Steps Taken, Says Rocky

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller, replying to Democratic campaign criticism of his record in defense of civil rights, has listed five steps taken during his administration against racial discrimination.

The Republican candidate for reelection gave this list:

1. "The first legislation in this state was passed, on my recommendation, to bar discrimination in private housing two years ago."

2. "The first legislation to bar discrimination in an apprenticeship and job-training program was passed on my recommendation last year."

3. "The first legislation to bar discrimination in real estate brokerage firms and in bank loan operations to protect minority groups" was passed.

4. Expenditures of the State Commission for Human Rights have been increased 150 per cent.

5. An office against discrimination has been set up in the office of the attorney general, Louis J.

Lefkowitz who is running with him for reelection.

Rockefeller's statements were made in reply to questions from a panel of reporters on a taped television program aired Sunday.

He replied to criticisms of him on the civil rights issue by his Democratic opponent, Robert M. Morgenthau, and by Manhattan Borough President Edward R. Dudley, a Negro and Democratic candidate for attorney general.

Rockefeller again denied Democratic charges that he plans a state tax increase. He also denied Morgenthau's charge that the state has failed to use federal works and manpower retraining programs available to the state.

Rockefeller said the federal government has not made the necessary funds available.

A statement issued by Rockefeller's office reviewed actions taken during his administration to improve ports in the state. One of the items was that his administration advanced $12.7 million in state funds for developments of ports at Buffalo, Oswego and Ogdensburg.

4,549 Are Registered In 2 Days

Total Falls Behind Three Major Years

Two days of registration here for the November election brought out 4,549 voters, which was 1,256 under the gubernatorial election year of 1958, was 1,136 less than the mayoral election year of 1961 and 3,661 under the presidential year of 1960 for the first two days.

Saturday's registration, however, was 1,455 above the Friday total. The final two days of registration usually bring out more voters, but this was not true in the presidential election year of 1960 when the first two days brought the highest total with 8,210 registered.

Registration in the city next Friday, Oct. 12 will be from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and on Saturday, Oct. 13, polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Heckled by Anti-Castroites

Accuses U.S. of Block; 'Act of War,' Dorticcos

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

—In a stormy General Assembly session, Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos Torrado demanded today that the United Nations condemn as "an act of war" what he called a U.S. naval blockade.

The Cuban president was interrupted repeatedly by anti-Castro hecklers. His reference to an alleged U.S. naval blockade brought a prolonged burst of applause from the Soviet bloc, a small group of African delegates and some visitors in the public galleries.

He received another round of applause when he said:

"Cuba has friends, Cuba has friendly governments. It is not alone."

A half-dozen shouting men and women were hustled from the public galleries by alert U.N. guards as they hurled insults at Dorticos. Security reinforcements were rushed into the galleries and the assembly president threatened to suspend the meeting unless order was maintained.

In a bitter attack on the Kennedy administration, the Cuban president accused the United States of acting "in obvious contempt of the United Nations" in calling last week's meeting of Latin American foreign ministers in Washington.

He said the meeting was aimed at persuading the other nations to join in "the domestic subversion of my country."

To Have Conference

Chief U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson indicated he would abide by U.N. tradition which forbids delegates to answer remarks made by a chief of state. But he arranged a news conference to make his reply later in the day. He also was expected to deal with the Cuban charges at a later meeting of the assembly.

Assembly President Muhammad Zafrulla Khan assured Dorticos he was doing his best to keep order. He warned that he would clear the chamber if necessary.

Dorticcos assailed the joint U.S. congressional statement, which he read out, that urged action against Cuba.

The Cuban president stressed the phrase "including the use of arms" in preventing the spread of Marx-Lenin doctrines in the hemisphere.

"This is most bizarre," he said.

"was it Cuba that was guilty of aggressions in this hemisphere?" he demanded.

"President Kennedy admitted that the Bay of Pigs invasion was carried out by troops prepared in the United States, troops were prepared in one Central American country for invasion of another."

Reveals He Made Cut In Control Desired to Make 12 More Orbits

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Walter M. Schirra Jr., America's most widely traveled space pilot, says he came back from his "textbook flight" six times around the world with one suggestion for the next U.S. space venture: Just move up its launching date.

He came back from that flight reluctantly, said the 39-year-old Navy commander.

"I would like to have gone for 12 more (orbits)," he said.

Schirra also told newsmen at a nationally televised news conference Sunday that at one point in his 9-hour, 13-minute flight he completely cut himself off from ground control.

Saved on Power

To conserve the power supply of his Sigma 7 spacecraft, he said, he threw a switch cutting off the electrical system which would have allowed ground control stations to bring him out of orbit in an emergency.

"From the beginning," he said, "I wanted to turn off the armed squib (control box), which means that it is my capsule and no one can bring me back until I put the switch back."

He left it off until Christopher Kraft, Project Mercury flight director, told him: "I think you have proved our point, old buddy."

No Problems

As he told the story of Wednesday's flight, Schirra made 9 hours and 13 minutes in the weightless world of space sound like a drive to the corner drug store.

"I had no problems, no uneasiness, no queasiness," said Schirra. "I had no fatigue, I was ready to continue through one day."

He had no moments of apprehension, "Not one."

Schirra's flight was the longest flown by an American astronaut, though a short journey by comparison to the 64- and 48-orbit flights of the Soviet cosmonauts, Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich. It was a link between the three-orbit flights of John H. Glenn Jr. and Malcolm Scott Carpenter and one-day, 18-orbit mission planned for early next year, possibly in late February or early March.

In Houston Saturday

The flight began at 7:15 a.m. Wednesday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and ended at 4:28 p.m. 275 miles northeast of Midway Island in the Pacific. Schirra was picked up by the carrier Kearsarge, and taken to Hawaii where he was placed on a plane which arrived in Houston shortly after midnight Saturday.

Sunday this city—the new home of the Manned Spacecraft Center—turned out to give the astronaut a friendly welcome. Police estimated 300,000 citizens applauded (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Psychiatric Examination Due During Week for Gen. Walker in South Riots

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who denies he's guilty of federal charges evolving from riots at the University of Mississippi, will undergo psychiatric examination here this week.

The former Army officer, charged with inciting an insurrection and seditious conspiracy, flew home to Dallas Sunday and was greeted by about 200 flag-waving supporters.

He was released late Saturday from the U.S. Medical Center in Springfield, Mo., on $50,000 bond, posted by his family.

Release came only after he agreed to submit to a psychiatric examination.

Walker was jovial and talkative to the point his lawyers would allow.

Amid signs of "Welcome home Gen. Walker," he told his supporters, "I'm happy to be back in Texas. The air is clear, bright and wonderful."

"It was supposed to be a short trip to Mississippi, but it was extended to Missouri—much to my surprise."

Walker has been accused of leading rioters against U.S. marshals.

His only reference to the night's rioting was that he advised students on the Oxford, Miss., campus "that nobody has come to Mississippi for any violence and no one intends any."

Asked if he was guilty of the federal charges, Walker said, "Certainly I'm not."

Walker was directed by U.S. Dist. Judge Claud Clayton of Oxford, who reduced an original of $100,000, to undergo psychiatric examination within five days.

Robert Morris of Dallas, one of Walker's attorneys, told newsmen the agreement for the examination was strictly voluntary.

Morris said, "We agreed to submit him; he wasn't ordered."

Appeal Rejected By Supreme Court In Meredith Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected today an appeal by the state of Mississippi contesting orders that resulted in enrollment of James Howard Meredith, a Negro, at the University of Mississippi.

Meredith, 29, enrolled Oct. 1 under military protection ordered by President Kennedy to end two days of rioting in the university area.

Meredith's admission to the previously all-white university came after Justice Hugo Black on Sept. 10 enjoined university officials from taking any step to block the Negro's enrollment.

Before Black acted, Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson of Mississippi had filed an appeal with the high tribunal. It asked review and reversal of a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans that Meredith had improperly been denied admission in May 1961, solely because of his race.

While the Circuit Court called for Meredith's admission, one of its members, Judge Ben. F. Cameron of Meridian, Miss., issued a stay order to bar his enrollment.

Counsel for Meredith asked Black to vacate Cameron's order and this request was granted by the Supreme Court Justice in his Sept. 10 ruling.

Black then said delay in admission of Meredith could only work "further injury" to him while immediate enforcement of court orders for his enrollment "can do no appreciable harm to the university or other respondents" (state officials).

Black made the prediction that "there is very little likelihood" that the Supreme Court would act on Atty. Gen. Patterson's appeal.

This prediction came true today when the high tribunal in a brief order announced rejection of the Mississippi appeal.

The court's order made no comment.

Soblen Cremation Scheduled Thursday

LONDON (AP)—The Home Office said today the body of Soviet spy Robert Soblen will be cremated Thursday in suburban Ruislip.

Dr. Soblen, 62, was being taken in an ambulance to a New York-bound airliner in September when he swallowed a massive dose of sleeping pills. He died Sept. 11 of a brain hemorrhage at a hospital. As a convicted spy in America he faced a life prison sentence.

Reserve Decision On Prison Inmate Asking Release

Charles Williams, an inmate of Wallkill Medium Security Prison, is seeking release from prison on the grounds his constitutional rights were violated when he was committed to prison for robbery from Monroe County.

Under a writ of habeas corpus, Williams asked Supreme Court Justice Kenneth MacAffer to permit him to appeal the conviction. Justice MacAffer reserved decision but intimated there appeared to be no legal grounds for the appeal.

Williams, sentenced for a term of from 10 to 15 years in prison, alleged he was not represented by counsel when he was arraigned along with two others on a robbery charge. He admitted this was at a preliminary hearing, that he was later indicted and was assigned counsel by the court. He was found guilty after trial but objected on the grounds that one of the men was acquitted. Williams said all three men had been arrested at the same time for the same act and that it was illegal to send him to prison on the guilty verdict when the jury had acquitted one of men.

Justice MacAffer told Williams his time for appeal had expired, that his attorney had not filed for appeal in time and that apparently he had been represented by counsel at the time of the trial and sentence. However he allowed Williams to file additional information and reserved decision.

State Says Hole In Blacktop to Be Fixed Today

Complaints of a hole in the blacktop at the entrance to the new Bailey bridge, over Esopus Creek, Town of Ulster, were received at the sheriff's office from city police at 4 p. m. Sunday.

Deputy Sheriff Thomas Mayone called the County Highway Department, and said he was told the matter was one for the State Highway Department to handle.

After several attempts to reach a State Highway Department employee, Mayone finally reported the condition and was informed the situation would be taken care of today.

Meanwhile, sheriff's deputies placed a barricade with oil pot flares at the hole, to warn motorists of the condition.

3rd Offender Is Fined $100, Must Attend School

A driver booked for speeding as a third offender, was sentenced in city court and lost his license today. He was ordered to attend the driver's training school.

City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman gave Ronald Salerno, 18, of Stone Ridge the choice of paying a $100 fine or spending 20 days in jail, plus a suspended sentence of 15 days in jail. His license was revoked and he was ordered to attend the school.

Birdsall Mack, 32, of 188 Broadway, charged with speeding, was fined $15.

Tannersville Drug Storeroom Is Damaged by Blaze

Heavy damage was caused by fire Saturday morning to two storerooms of the Rexall Drug Store, Main Street, Tannersville in Greene County, and extensive water and smoke damage resulted in the second floor eight-room apartment above the pharmacy.

Cy Horwitz, proprietor of the drug store said the fire started in one of the storerooms attached to the rear of the building. He said the store was closed for inventory.

According to reports, the fire was discovered shortly after 7 a. m. by a Hunter Bakery truck driver, who was eating in Warm's Restaurant nearby. Firemen were summoned, and volunteers from Tannersville, Haines Falls and Hunter Fire Companies responded to alarms. East Jewett Fire Company members were alerted to standby in case more help was needed. An emergency truck also was at the scene until the blaze was extinguished.

State Police investigated a motor vehicle accident on the Perk-insville Road, one mile west of Route 9W. Town of Lloyd, at 2:55 a. m. Sunday, Trooper Salters said a 1957 car owned and driven by Bobby Newkirk, 19, of 14 Broad Street, Newburgh, went out of control on a sharp curve and struck a dirt embankment.

Newkirk suffered lacerations of the face and cerebral concussion. Passengers in the car were: Willie Thompson, 25, of 252 South Water Street, Newburgh, who suffered a fractured nose and lacerations of the face; Patricia Maise, 24, of 257 Water Street, Newburgh, a fractured pelvis and lacerations of the mouth; Irene Henry, 21, also of Newburgh, fractured left hip. Morgenthau Here During Weekend Meets Navy Buddy Democratic candidate for governor, Robert M. Morgenthau during his weekend visit here participated in the official opening of Democratic Headquarters at 596 Broadway, and renewed his acquaintance with Kingston Police Officer Floyd Krom, with whom he served in the Navy.

Morgenthau said the last time he had seen Krom, a member of his police escort here, was shortly after the night of April 20, 1944, when their ship, the USS Lansell was torpedoed off the coast of Algiers.

Delivers Brief Address
In a brief address here, Morgenthau said, "Four years ago Governor Rockefeller made a number of trips around the state, promised to do a lot of things for the taxpayers."

"He promised to bring new industry to the state, to create more jobs, to do more for education, to do a lot about a lot of things. Four years later, at the start of his campaign, he says that he now stands on his record."

"I had his record. I'd be standing on it too—so that nobody could see it. The first thing that Rockefeller did only 30 days after he was serving, was to ask for the largest income tax increase in the history of the state. He hadn't given the people any warning, whatsoever, and I think that that's what he's planning to do now—ask for another increase."

Morgenthau also said, "I don't have to tell the people of Kingston that local needs have grown tremendously in recent years. The tax resources on the local level are limited. The state, on other hand, has the broad, revenue-producing powers which justify the expectation that state aid to local communities will be kept a meaningful level."

Fighting New Formula
"The Democrats have been fighting for a new formula of per capita state aid under which Kingston would get a 50 per cent increase in state aid. But Rockefeller administration won't have it. Under the guise of pay as you go our towns and cities have been left to meet the needs of their citizens as best they can. Rockefeller's free-wheeling fiscal policies have shifted a tremendous burden of debt to the towns and cities of the state."

Morgenthau gave a press interview inside Democratic Headquarters which he had just officially opened. He personally greeted each of the several hundred persons attending the opening. He had an opportunity to reminisce with Officer Krom about their service on the USS Lansell and to relieve the expense of having their ship torpedoed and sunk. Morgenthau also discussed this experience with another local resident, James D. Devine, former city assessor, who was serving on a destroyer escort close to the Lansell, when she capsized.

Urges Support

Morgenthau and his entourage left Kingston after he had urged the crowd to support the local Democratic candidates, Morton E. Gilday for member of Congress; Joseph Amato, for state senator; George Majestic for member of assembly; William B. Martin for sheriff, and Lawrence Woerner for coroner.

Refreshments were served by the Ulster County Democratic Women's Club.

Florida Man Is Killed in Rt. 9 Accident Sunday

A 25-year-old Lakeland, Fla., man was killed Sunday night when a car in which he was riding struck the rear of a truck on Route 9 in the Town of Livingston, Columbia County. Thomas Carson, died instantly and Alfred Calhoun, 34, of Polk, Florida, driver of the car received severe facial lacerations and is listed as "good" at Columbia Memorial Hospital, Hudson.

State Police reported the truck was driven by Samuel Williams, 50, of Kinderhook. He had just turned onto Route 9 from a town road and was struck by the car going north. Columbia County Coroner Robert Near is withholding a verdict.

Both Florida men were migrant workers on the Charles Collier farm at Claverack. The accident happened about 7:40 p. m.

Two Drivers Pay $100 for Weight On Creek Span

Two drivers booked on charges dealing with excess weight of vehicles, which police said, had passed over the temporary bridge spanning the Esopus Creek and also moved over the Washington Avenue viaduct, were fined $100 each by City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman today.

Three other drivers have been booked on like charges since the Bailey bridge opened to traffic last Thursday. The $100 fine is mandatory.

Fined today were Anthony Disa, 341 Oakland Street, Springfield, Mass. and Frank Carpluk, N. J. of 1513 67th Street, Bergen, N. J. The charges dealt with the posted six-ton weight on the viaduct rather than that of the bridge. Disa, police said, drove a vehicle five tons over the weight limit and Carpluk drove one with a reported unladen weight of 16,000 pounds. Summonses were issued by Officer Wilmont Hall.

The report listed Floyd Blanchard, operating a truck of the Talcott Transfer Co., Hickory, N. C., as the driver.

Reid Allen Carr, of 519 Sixth Street, Roanoke, Va. issued a summons by Officer Louis Sapp, is due in court Oct. 13. The weight of the vehicle was listed at 21,000 pounds, "plus load." Harvey A. Brown, of Millville, Pa. paid a fine of $100 Saturday.

The first driver to receive a summons after opening of the Bailey bridge was Victor A. Grogan, 29, of Schaghticoke, Rensselaer County. It was claimed that the "trailer and load" he drove was in excess of 30,000 pounds. He is due in court Tuesday when Claude T. Helton, 44, of RD 1, Box 324, Walden, who is also due for appearance. Helton was listed as the driver of the trailer truck held responsible for collapse of the 38-year-old Esopus Creek span Aug. 28.

Reports today indicated that the catwalk built on the east side of the Bailey bridge was due to open to pedestrian travel.

Downtown Driver In Two Mishaps

A driver who reported a truck-bicycle mishap downtown Saturday, police said, later became involved in a car-pedestrian accident on Prince and Dederick Streets.

Sylvester Beverly, 41, of 249 East Union Street, told police that a bicycle operated by Raymond Peoples, 12, of 249 East Union Street, also carrying Stephen Beverly, 12, of the same address, had slipped under wheels of a truck at about 2 p. m. at Ferry Street and Hasbrouck Avenue. The boys, taken to Kingston Hospital, were reported uninjured.

In the other mishap reported at 3:30 p. m. police said a car driven by Beverly, stopped in a line of traffic at Prince and Dederick streets, struck Joseph Sinagra, 57, of 419 Boulevard when it started Sinagra was taken to the Beneficent Hospital for treatment of arm and leg injuries.

Juan Granquist, 22, of 15 Vandusen Street, was reported injured in a mishap at Ravine and West Pierpont streets at 2:30 a. m. Sunday. Police said a car operated by John P. DiMuccio, of 68 Howland Avenue, in making a left turn into Ravine Street, struck the parked car of Edward Wroblewski, of 111 1/2 Spring Street, forcing it into a porch at 90 Ravine Street.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Can the astrophysicists pull the stock market up with them? Will tax loss selling, just around the corner, raise volume if not prices? Can good earnings reports, especially of some of the utilities in growth areas, lure the conservative investor back?

As the market strives to make up its mind which way it's headed, and as most days find trading slow, Wall Street is looking hopefully for something that will make common stocks more competitive again with other ways of investing money.

Aerospace Contracts Profitable
Stocks of some companies with aerospace contracts already have recovered a nice chunk of their earlier price losses. Brokers are hoping that more of the general public will be attracted.

For the average investor the trick is to be sure which of the hundreds of possibly eligible companies, large and small, will land aerospace contracts or subcontracts. The government will pour billions of dollars into the space race.

But for the investor there's the question: Will profits from any particular contract materially raise total earnings, especially of the big and diversified corporations?

Brokers look for a large volume of tax loss selling this year as an aftermath of the drop in prices of many stocks since January 1. Persons who bought at prices higher than today's can sell, using the loss to offset any gains from more fortunate ventures.

Wall Street Is Aware

Naturally the brokers hope that such selling will be largely in the form of switching. That is, money from sales for tax purposes immediately used to buy other stocks that are or appear to be bargain priced now.

But Wall Street is aware that common stocks today have a host of competitors for any idle cash. Various savings institutions are offering interest rates that still top the yields of many stocks—that is, return dividends as percentage of current prices.

Many bonds, corporate and government, return more at today's prices than do lots of stocks. A lot of investors, big or small, who sold stocks during the market breaks in May and June are believed to have put their money then and since into savings institutions or bonds, real estate or art.

Getting them back into the market may take some doing.

One thing that could do the trick would be a sudden bit of good news—or a growing belief that good news is in the works. If the public gets that idea, it will go for common stocks again. The lower yields, compared with savings or bonds, will weigh less with the public than the hope for capital gains—that is, the chance to sell stocks for more than it paid for them.

Yields Unspectacular

That is why some think the astrophysicists who have captured the public's fancy and enthusiasm could lead the public back into buying stocks of companies whose future is closely linked with the space age.

Others think some investors will be impressed by increased earnings of many utilities. Yields of these stocks aren't spectacular, because their earnings are subject to government regulation. For the same reason, price swings either up or down tend to be staid compared with some industrial stocks.

But utilities serving growing sections offer many attributes usually considered the monopoly of the once glamorous growth companies in other fields.

Brokers argue that, given a reasonably healthy general economy in the next few years, earnings of these utilities should continue to grow—and, with luck, so should the price of their stocks.

Jamestown Native Has U.S. and Red Air Force Wings

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP)—M-Sgt. Harley R. Barstow Jr., a native of Jamestown, N.Y., and now stationed here, is probably the only enlisted man in the American Air Force with Soviet Air Force wings.

Sgt. Barstow earned the Russian wings in 1954 when he and 25 other U.S. Air Force men flew Russian aircraft through the American zone of Germany in an airlift of Soviet officials to talks in Geneva.

The other 25 men were officers. Sgt. Barstow was the only enlisted man.

Soviet officials requested Sgt. Barstow's services to fly eastern bloc officials from Berlin to Geneva because he was a licensed private pilot and a traffic control officer.

After the operation, the Soviets officially awarded the Russian wings to Barstow and the officers. This was the first time the USSR awarded wings to American flyers since World War II.

The Soviet wings are not authorized for wear on a U.S. Air Force uniform. The Red wings are approximately twice as long as U.S. Air Force wings.

Barstow remembers taking off and conversing with the Russian crew by sign language.

"Our talks were much friendlier than the Geneva talks we were flying missions for," Sgt. Barstow says.

Barstow flew three missions for the Reds.

The Russians needed the Americans for the airlift because the Soviets had to have English-speaking crew members for air traffic control in the American zone.

Simmons Park Fire Damages Car, Garage

A fire late Saturday afternoon damaged a two-car garage and a car in the basement of the Carl Rothe home at Blue Hills Drive, Simmons Park, Glasco Fire Company authorities reported.

Chief Charles J. Cafaldo reported that the volunteers did a good job considering that they experienced some difficulty in finding the fire because the person reporting the blaze gave an incomplete address. Chief Cafaldo today emphasized the importance of persons reporting a fire to give the correct and complete address.

The Glasco chief said the door and ceiling of the garage was damaged and the car was scorched on the back before it was removed from the building. Approximately 25 volunteers responded.

Triumvirate to Rule

NEW YORK (AP)—The Queens County Democratic executive committee voted Friday to continue its three-man chairmanship until Nov. 16.

The triumvirate took over leadership of the committee after the resignation of Bert Koehler. It consists of City Councilman Seymour Boyers, Michael A. Castaldi, and Charles S. Murphy.

"We will continue to rule with the triumvirate until we have a special meeting Nov. 16 to elect a new county chairman," Boyers said.

Dutchess College Gets Emergency Classroom Space

Despite a fire Sept. 30 that destroyed the student center building at Dutchess Community College, 29 classes usually held in the gutted building were not interrupted.

Shortly after the blaze was extinguished, Dr. James F. Hall, college president, said that an offer of a seminar room seating 100 persons in the Fairview Fire District's headquarters building on Violet Avenue as an emergency classroom would be accepted. Other community agencies including the Violet Avenue School came forward with offers for classroom space upon learning of the fire. "It is gratifying to be reminded once more of the great many friends the college has in the community," Dr. Hall said.

The destroyed building contained facilities for student co-curricular activities, classrooms, a large lecture hall, the college art and athletic departments and a language-training laboratory.

The blaze, discovered about 5:45 a. m. by two St. Francis Hospital nurses on their way to hospital duties, had apparently begun of undetermined origin about two hours before the discovery. Fire fighters from the Fairview and Roosevelt Fire districts had the blaze under control by 8 a. m. but much of the building and its equipment is considered a total loss.

Hooker Chemical Employees Return To Work Today

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Operations at the Hooker Chemical Corp. were back to normal today following the ratification of a two-year contract by more than 1,200 production, maintenance and shipping workers who had walked off their jobs a week ago.

The employees voted Sunday at a union membership meeting to accept the contract, which provides for a seven-cent hourly wage increase, a wage re-opener clause effective Oct. 1, 1963, and additional fringe benefits.

Company negotiators and representatives of the workers' union, Niagara Hooker Employees Union (independent), had reached a tentative agreement on the contract Saturday, with the aid of a federal mediator.

The bulk of the workers reported back to their jobs today. Some came in Sunday after the contract was ratified.

Workers went on strike when the old contract expired at midnight Sept. 30.

Manufacturer Fined $500

Federal Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo of the United States District Court, Eastern District of New York, today imposed fines totaling $500 on Sweatermasters Co., Inc. and Milton Gursky for violation of the Federal Wage and Hour Law. The firm is engaged in the manufacture of ladies' sweaters at 852 Monroe Street, Brooklyn. Gursky is president of the defendant corporation and resides at 658 Montgomery Street, Brooklyn. The defendants pleaded guilty to one count of a criminal information which charged failure to pay time and one-half the regular rate of pay for all hours worked over 40 in the work week.

The household troops of France's King Louis XIV (1638-1715) are believed to have worn the first truly military uniform, designed to mark them as a unit. It was a single-breasted frock coat with turned up cuffs.

Proposed 1963 Budget Adopted By Town Board

At a special meeting of the Town Board, the proposed preliminary budget for 1963 was adopted. The total budget to be raised by taxes is over $800,000 over last year's. The estimated amount to be raised by taxation for the next year is expected to be covered from the revenue of assessments on new properties.

Supervisor Peter Savago explained that the tax rate per thousand dollars of assessed valuation for next year is unknown, as the county tax which is included in the town tax is not complete. Another item that affects the rate is the equalization rate for the town of New Paltz which is one point lower.

The board will hold a public hearing on the proposed budget in the Town Hall on Nov. 7 at 7:30 p. m.

Supervisor Savago stated that by 1964, the total debt of the town will only amount to about $36,000, where now it owes $50,000 which includes $46,000 for the Town Hall and $2,000 for the new dump. He pointed out that this year the $2,000, the last payment for the dump will be paid, and that the $12,000 paid off on the Town Hall each year will bring the debt down to the $14,000.

The board has allocated $15,000 for the Highway Machinery Fund. The board favors a reserve for the machinery fund so that it may be bought for out-right payments rather than on the installment plan which includes interest charges.

The new budget calls for a salary increase for all members of the board if the budget is approved at the public hearing. The supervisors fee will be raised from $2,300 to $2,800 a year. The two justices of the peace will be raised from $2,000 to $2,250 each. Councilmen salaries will be raised $150 a year each making it $750. Supervisor Savago reported that although New Paltz rates fifth in population among the twenty towns in the county, his salary ranks seventh from the bottom.

Other increases in next year's budget include the salary of the Town Clerk from $3800 to $4,300. An increase of $200 in the combined salaries of the assessors. A raise of the building inspector from $1,200 to $1,500. The cost of street lights and traffic signs will go from $110 to $150. Fire Insurance from $3500 to $4,250, with the stipulation that this may be lowered later. There is an expected cost of $2,000 as

Kurtz Portraits Are On Display at Bank

Arthur Kurtz of Route 208, New Paltz, now has several portraits on display at the New Paltz Savings Bank at 39 Main Street.

Most of these portraits were done during classes held at the State University College here under the auspices of the New Paltz Art Association. The various subjects showing posed as models for the class and many of them are local people.

Kurtz was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and attended public schools there. He also attended Western Reserve University for two years and the Cleveland School of Architecture for two years. He was advised by his family physician to find work that would keep him out of doors, because of a break in his health, and came to New Paltz in 1927 to work on the fruit farm owned by his uncle, H. C. Sanford. Kurtz later took over the orchard and he and his brother, Paul, have been operating it since as Sanford Orchards.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF SAVING

A headwaiter in a leading New York City hotel has deposited $2,000 in a savings bank during the past year. In August, 1962, he opened another account for his infant grandson who, possibly, will be ready for college in 18 years.

His thrift and savings habits have been revolutionized in recent years. Good wages for money have brought about this change.

During the decade when money was cheap and interest rates in savings banks fell to 1½ per cent a year, he became discouraged about saving. He speculated unsuccessfully in the stock market. And he practiced wasteful habits.

Then when living costs started to stabilize (his apartment rental is frozen) and when interest at his savings bank went to 4 per cent and now to 4½ on long-term deposits, thrift and saving again began to be the center of his economic life.

This headwaiter epitomizes what is happening in thousands of other homes. Saving is becoming a cardinal virtue again.

During August, 1962, the deposits of New York State's savings banks increased by more than $121 million. The growth, achieved during a vacation month when many people were spending savings, brought the total deposits of New York State's savings banks to an all-time high—$23,203,457,000!

Excessive borrowing is an economic curse to any nation. It brings on inflation and many attributes of inflation which help to upset price, costs and wage levels.

If thrift and saving had been in the saddle more in the past 25 years, many of the present-day economic ills would have been avoided.

Financial self-reliance can become a great personal satisfaction. A savings account opened in early life with regular payday deposits can nurture self-reliance admirably. Interest piles up. Principal grows. Efficiency on job improves. Wage and salary increases follow.

Many executives in their 30's and 40's whose promotion has been rapid dared take vocational risks with a comfortable reserve of dollars available.

Furthermore such a set of circumstances has helped to make them sound investors. The discipline that a growing savings bank account gives an executive aids him when he buys securities. It is often the careless, indifferent worker who recklessly speculates in stocks.

The industry and thrift that cause savings bank deposits to grow tend to make American investors more thoughtful and discerning.

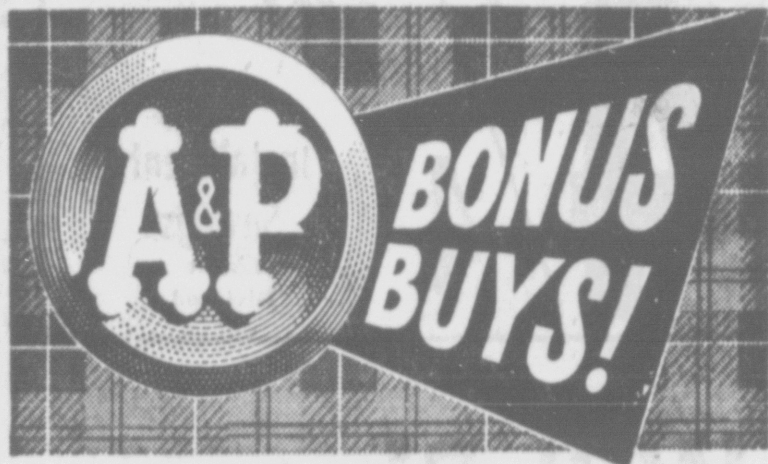

There is no adequate substitute for a program started by an individual who first will accumulate some cash, establish an insurance program and launch a plan to buy sound common stocks carrying good income and growth.

And opening a savings account can spearhead the entire operation.

Airline Horseplay Termed Serious, By FAA Official

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — N. E. Halaby, federal aviation administrator, says that if photographs and testimony of cockpit shenanigans are verified they indicate "a very serious condition existed" in airline operations and "could possibly exist today."

Halaby told a news conference Friday that some of the photographs produced within the past two weeks have been verified as authentic, "and we think many of them will be."

Some of the photos showed shapely blondes sitting in pilots' laps and actually at the controls, a donkey wandering through an airliner and pilots dozing.

The man who said he took some of the pictures—Trans World Airlines "flight engineer" William J. Miller—told a House subcommittee Wednesday that he also saw pilots sleeping or reading magazines on 75 per cent of the flights he was on.

"Our evidence doesn't bear out some statements that this is now prevalent," said Halaby. But he added that "we are redoubling our efforts to assure that management takes action with pilots, copilots, flight engineers and stewardesses to make certain that this does not happen again."

Halaby also announced that the agency was calling back its "project tightrope" committee of lawyers for help in general overhauling of flight safety procedures.

Vol's Face Jury On Arson Charges

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Three volunteer firemen have been ordered held for grand jury action in connection with four barn fires in Tompkins and Cayuga counties.

Ralph S. Snyder, 19, Leland L. Bower, 18, and Charles J. Uhl Jr., 19, all of Ludlowville, waived examination Friday on charges of third-degree arson.

The three members of a volunteer fire unit in Ludlowville were arrested Monday. Sheriff's deputies said the arrests resulted from investigations of barn fires at King Ferry on Monday and on Sept. 23, and two fires in the last two weeks at Lansing and Dryden.

No Cause for Alarm

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The state Health Department reports the radioactive iodine content of milk increased in September, but there is no cause for alarm.

Karl M. Mason, director of environmental health, said Friday the increase was expected because of continued nuclear testing. He added, however, that there is no need for remedial action at this time.

The average level of radioactive iodine last month was 50 microcuries per liter, compared to an average of 20 in September, 1961.

The highest level of the month was 340, reported in Erie on Sept. 26. Other readings reported in that city were 13 on Sept. 7, 20 on Sept. 12, and 30 Sept. 17.

Your Community Chest Contributions at Work

Your contributions to the one-for-many 1962 Ulster County Community Chest meant $12,159 for the Salvation Army in Kingston, New Paltz and Saugerties.

Here is how your dollars help them to help others:

The Red Shield of the Salvation Army like the Red Feather of the Community Chest is a symbol of hope for a community and for its troubled and despairing.

First with food, shelter, clothing for disaster victims. In hospitals, in homes and prisons — comforting, cheering, helping. At Christmas — distributing food and clothing. Giving practical and spiritual assistance to the destitute and helpless. Working with the young, the old, the lost. Where there is need, there is the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army provides these specific services: spiritual guidance, counseling, family service, child and youth activities, seasonal welfare, hospital visitation, transient service, Home League, emergency service and prison work.

Its state-wide services include: maternity homes and hospitals, men's rehabilitation centers, men's and women's correctional services, emergency and disaster services, women's residences, camping activities, a home for girls, and a public information program.

Last year, the Salvation Army Canteen alone served more than 300 emergency and disaster vic-times; visited 800 hospital patients, supplied over 2000 items of clothing and over 100 food orders. These are a few of the tangible uses to which Salvation Army put its own funds and those allocated from the Community Chest funds.

Founded in England in 1865, Salvation Army and its work will go on. However, your "fair share" contributed to the Ulster County Community Chest fund will assure that their work of helping others to help themselves will continue to be extended to even greater numbers of our deserving in 1963.

Our Needs Change As We Grow Older

A periodic review of your life insurance coverage is necessary to be sure the plan you are carrying is the one best suited to your needs. Often a young man purchases an endowment policy, with a view to providing retirement income for himself. As his family increases, he is faced with the need for additional immediate protection. Later, he buys a mortgaged home and needs still more protection, but of a temporary nature. Perhaps after the children are grown and the mortgage paid off, another review can save him money in premium payments.

WILL AMERICA BE BEHIND THE

'America is the world's leader in many fields—in science and invention, in business and trade, in moral influence on world affairs. But can we hold this lead?

Only if we continue to develop the leaders that are needed to handle the problems America faces.

But this may not be possible unless we back higher education. Today colleges are in a squeeze. Many face shortages, and in 10 years applicants will double. We need more and better laboratories and many more qualified teachers.

Third Hand Low on This

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

You are going to be sitting East all this week and are going to have a problem on the very first trick.

If you want to benefit as much as possible just look at the bidding, the opening lead and the North and East hands.

The five of hearts is played from dummy on West's deuce and approximately 99 out of 100 players would play the jack from the East hand in accordance with the well-known rule of "third hand high."

You probably won't because you will have figured that I would not be writing this article unless there were some reason to play low.

Now look at all the hands and you can see that the low play will lead to contract defeat. South will win with the seven spot, draw trumps and go about the business of attacking the diamond suit.

Defense will take two diamond tricks and the ace of clubs and as long as neither East or West leads another heart, South will have to try that suit again and either West's king or East's jack will collect the setting trick.

If, on the first play, East rises with the jack, South's queen will take that trick and he will have a simple finesse left against West's king.

The low play would have cost East a trick if West had led away from the king-queen, but not one lead away from a king-queen against a four-spade contract.

Ban Is Continued On Film Showing; Decision Reserved

"The Connection," a motion picture which was closed after two shows at Griffith Theatre in New York City last week, will remain closed until Supreme Court Justice Kenneth MacAffer decided whether the order banning the showing of the picture is justified under the law.

Advertised as "the years most controversial film," the picture was shown twice last Wednesday and was then closed under a temporary injunction when a show cause order was served. That order was returnable before Justice MacAffer at special term in Kingston Friday.

Justice MacAffer, after hearing long arguments by counsel, reserved decision and continued the restraining order until he decides the matter.

The film has not been licensed by the State University Board of Regents, as is prescribed by law. The Board of Regents seeks to enjoin the showing until the Court of Appeals decides the legality of the statute which requires licensing of a film by the State Board of Regents.

After the film was shown twice last Wednesday at two shows it was closed when a show cause order containing a stay was served. Counsel for the film company argued that the injunction should be lifted, pending legal determination of the matter since the producers were losing large sums of money. He argued that the cost of theatre, and the fact that no other film could be booked at the theatre pending determination of the question of showing was costing large sums of money which could not be recouped should the film showing later be permitted.

Justice MacAffer said the publicity incident to the legal action probably would be a big asset to the box office if the picture is allowed.

Objection is not that the film is "obscene" but that it is "vulgar."

The film dealing with narcotics reportedly used a word termed objectionable.

The primary question before the higher court is to test the statute regarding the constitutionality of the law which gives the Board of Regents power to censor a film. That question will ultimately be determined by the Court of Appeals.

Counsel was given time to serve memorandums and Justice MacAffer reserved decision and continued the injunction.

The world's most powerful siren, built for the U. S. government to test space equipment, produces a sound level of 172 decibels, more than a million times the level that produces ear pain.

Post 1034 Slates Last 2 Meetings For Oct. 10 and 24

The last two regular meetings of Rose-Sheely Post 1034, American Legion, Wallkill, will be held Oct. 10 and Oct. 24 at 8 p. m.

At the Oct. 10 meeting, Donald George Newton Jr. has been invited to speak on his experiences at Colgate University last June when he represented Post 1034 in the Boys State project.

Boys State Chairman Leonard Almqvist has also invited Newton's mother and father to be present at the meeting.

At the last meeting, a motion raising the dues was approved. All members are asked to send their dues direct to Paul Davis, first vice president, Wallkill. This is in order that the records might be kept correctly. The dues card will be sent to the members by Post Adjutant George Backofen.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Post 1034 will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight. After a short business meeting, the newly elected auxiliary officers for 1962-63 will be installed.

They are: Marie Flockhart, president; Ethel Smith, 1st vice president; Clara Hanke, 2nd vice president; Pauline Auchmoody, secretary; Vera Prisco, treasurer; Edna Roach, chaplain; Nettie Daley, sergeant-at-arms; Anna Lowins, historian.

The installing officer will be Mrs. Dorothy Wickes, former president. Clara Hanke and Mabel Folkard will be hostesses for this meeting.

Liston Blames Trouble On Fact He's Negro

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—World heavyweight champion Sonny Liston has accused a Fairmont Park guard who picked him up for going too slow in his auto of being "prejudiced against" him because he is a Negro.

Liston was picked up by guard Aaron Smith Friday night, it was disclosed over the weekend, and later released. No charges were lodged against him.

It was the second time Liston had been stopped by park guards in 16 months.

Francis C. Deegan, park guard superintendent, said Smith stopped Liston because his car was going 15 miles an hour.

Deegan said Liston could not find his automobile registration and that Liston claimed he was being picked on because of his race.

How to acquire self-confidence

Blow a trumpet — or a sousaphone or a piccolo. You gain confidence by doing. And one of the most 'fun' things to do in school is to play in the band. The band has fun. The youngsters in the band learn how to perform. They learn to stand up and play their parts. They learn self-confidence and poise. They have fun while they're doing it.

They learn one thing more. They learn to appreciate music — as only those who participate can appreciate. Music is so important in later life — for relaxation, for entertainment, for education. By investing in a musical instrument for your child, you give him something that can never be taken away. Why not see your school band director.

PICTORIAL ENCYCLOPEDIA

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A venerable show business device, used particularly when business isn't good, is that of offering two tickets for a single price. They are called "two-fers" — two for the cost of one.

One of this season's minor trends which seems to have escaped notice is the television two-fer. A number of the new shows are now serving up two stories—sometimes more—in a single episode.

One of these is CBS' "Fair Exchange," a pleasant comedy hour pegged on the temporary swap of teen-aged daughters by an English and an American family. Each Friday the program shuttles smoothly between the merry goings-on in London and New York. It is really two well-integrated shows.

Then there is NBC's "Sam Benedict," which always has two—and sometimes more—stories going at one time. Last Saturday there was the main story, one about a mad murderer in which Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes figured as the unlikely heavy. Then there was a minor and milder tale about a Chinese restaurant keeper innocently selling liquor to minors. Both were neatly wrapped up at the end.

The first episode of CBS' "The Nurses," suggested that this series, too, might juggle a number of medical and emotional plots and counterplots simultaneously. But last week's show was a straightforward story about a working woman's problem in adjusting to housewifery. The story even abandoned nursing and hospital scenes and its stars had little to do.

The one newcomer of the week-end, ABC's "The Gallant Men," on Friday evening, was an unglamorous, forthright war story with emphasis on the reactions of men in battle.

The central figure and story-teller of the series is a World War Correspondent, played by Robert McQueeney. The story focused on a few men in a company forced to storm an enemy position somewhere between Salerno and Rome.

The sounds and sights of war—gun and mortar fire, mud, death—were simulated with uncomfortable realism. The plot, however, was phoned up a bit with a private who was really an AWOL major trying to make up for a mistake and a young captain who was beyond his depth.

If you like action, "The Gallant Men" has it—but it's the rugged kind.

Recommended tonight: "The Lucy Show," CBS, 8:30-9 (EDT)—Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance in their amusing new series; "The Danny Thomas Show," CBS, 9:30-10—Danny and spouse prepare to leave on a European tour—which will highlight their season's comedy output.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Health for All

Stern Measures

Fifteen men were arrested recently in New York City. Their crime? They had tuberculosis in its active, infectious stage and had refused treatment. The men were placed in a penitentiary hospital.

They were arrested under a seldom-used section of the city health code, which empowers the health department to take action against those in the community who are considered a menace to the health of others. The men arrested will be discharged from the penitentiary hospital when they are no longer infectious.

These are stern measures, indeed, but in the circumstances justified. Tuberculosis is a serious, highly infectious disease. A TB patient who is coughing up large numbers of TB germs may be as infectious for tuberculosis as a child is for measles, a highly contagious disease.

By way of experiment, air from a tuberculosis ward was channeled to a guinea pig exposure chamber. As contrast, another chamber of guinea pigs was set up, just like the first one, except that the air the animals breathed was irradiated with germ-killing ultra-violet light before it reached them. A large number of the guinea pigs in the first chamber became infected with TB germs.

Not only was it shown that the tuberculosis germs were borne on the air to the test chamber, but the investigators were able to pinpoint the patient who infected specific guinea pigs. One patient alone was responsible for infecting 15 guinea pigs in only three days of exposure.

Prof. Barnett Is Named Colgate University Head

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—Prof. Vincent MacD. Barnett, chairman of the political science department at Williams College, will take over Feb. 1 as president of Colgate University.

The selection of the 49-year-old Barnett was announced Saturday after a meeting of the university's Board of Trustees.

He succeeds Everett Case, who resigned July 1 to become president of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation. Dean James A. Strong has been Colgate's acting president.

Wellington Powell, vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and head of the trustees' selection committee described Barnett as "a teacher, scholar and proven administrator with a distinguished record of leadership in education and public affairs."

Powell said Colgate's search for a man to become its 10th president had been "long and intensive."

Barnett is a native of Whittier, Calif. He attended the University of California at Los Angeles and received his doctorate at Harvard University. He taught government for a year at Harvard before joining the Williams faculty in 1959.

Javits Approves Try To Release Cuban PWs

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., says he approves of the attempt being made by Attorney James B. Donovan to arrange the release of 1,113 Cuban prisoners of war in Havana.

Donovan, Javits' Democratic opponent in the Nov. 6 election, has traveled to Havana in hopes of negotiating the release.

Javits said on a television program Sunday that he wanted to make clear that he was not giving a blanket endorsement of Donovan's efforts. Javits said he would want to know what kind of deal was negotiated before giving final approval.

Mt. Holyoke Club Meets in Kingston; Speaker on Guidance

The fall meeting of the Mt. Holyoke Club was held recently at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston.

Speaker for the evening was Miss Lois Prescott of the Kingston High School Guidance Department who discussed "Counseling on the High School Level." Miss Prescott stated that identification of the potential college student is made in various ways — through teacher recognition, tests of various types, and interest shown by the student. Locally, this selection is made in the sixth grade but timing may vary from community to community. Once identified, the college-bound student may enroll in accelerated or enriched programs if he so wishes. Miss Prescott also noted that the New York State Regents diploma is now designated as a college level standard. Students not headed for advanced training may secure high school diplomas.

The chief drawback which she has found in her counseling work, and one which seems to be applicable to the whole country, is that students enrolled in the strictly college curriculum are apt to be lacking in creativity. They tend to conform too much to what is laid out for them. Miss Prescott suggested this may be an area where the home can give a valuable service by encouraging creativity. She also mentioned the various financial offerings, such as scholarships, loans, which may enable a student to attend college. In this connection she stated that the really good student is better off seeking admission to the more expensive institution since this is usually the one having the larger endowment and hence can give more financial assistance.

During the business meeting, Club president, Mrs. Thomas L. Partlan of Kingston, gave a brief resume of the Club Presidents' meeting she had attended in South Hadley in the Spring. The club also gave instructions to its Alumnae Councilor, Miss Martha Barnett of Kingston, on its recommendation for Alumnae Trustee. It was also decided that the winter meeting should be a noon luncheon on Saturday, Jan. 19 in Poughkeepsie.

In addition to those mentioned, the following members attended from the Kingston area: Mrs. Robert F. Moseley, Mrs. Paul Neuling, Mrs. Martin DeForest Smith and Miss Dorothy DuMont from Kingston and the Mmes. Francis Barclay and Sanford Cross from Accord.

HOUSE GUEST PAYS FOR LODGING

Q: Two weeks ago a friend of mine who lives in another state wrote to me and said that her daughter was coming to this city for a week to attend some special classes and asked if I could find a place for her to stay. I wrote back and told her that her daughter could stay with us and share my daughter's room. She accepted our offer. When the daughter left for home we drove her to the airport. Just before she boarded the plane she shook hands with me and thanked me for my hospitality and as she did so she pressed something into my hand. When I looked I found that she had given me 30 dollars. I feel that this money should be returned but my husband thinks it will cause hurt feelings if I do so.

A: I am very upset over this. My daughter tells me that the night before she packed the young woman told her that she must settle with me for her room and board and my daughter told her that she should not think of such a thing. She said that her mother and father would be very upset if she didn't do so. I haven't touched the money and would like to return it. Will you please tell me how to tactfully handle this situation?

A: If you return the money it will cause embarrassment and probably hurt her feelings. My suggestion is to write to your friend to tell her how much you enjoyed her daughter's visit, and add that you certainly did not expect her to pay you for her board and lodging but as she has done so you are giving the money in her name to your favorite charity.

Born in Delaware

Emil Cohen has appeared in Las Vegas, Miami and in supper clubs from coast to coast. He is in great demand at events sponsored by national organizations. Born in Wilmington, Del., of a father who was a well-known cantor and a brilliant wit, Emil Cohen can be said to be a product of two cultures, American and Yiddish. His presentation in both languages is always outstanding and in good taste. As Jennie Grossinger has stated, "Emil Cohen is an excellent entertainer and our guests who have seen him always look forward to another one of his sparkling performances."

Mr. and Mrs. Streifer are expecting a large gathering at their home and most extensive preparations are being made by the Streifers and the committee for a gala evening.

Will reverend Rafalowsky further said, "The tremendous upsurge in the sale of Israel Bonds has been noted by our committee as part of the national upward trend. The news that the Government of the State of Israel will redeem the first Bonds maturing early in 1963, will affect every Jewish community. Many of us have bonds that will be maturing shortly, and it is a pleasure to be able to announce to our friends in the Kingston area that they will receive full payment, including all interest when their bonds are due. I am indeed proud that the State of Israel will render full payment. Israel, we know, will never renege on a promise made by her. Israel Bonds are considered by outstanding financial experts as a very good investment, and I urge all members of the community to purchase these bonds."

Rafalowsky also urged all persons invited to the Israel gathering Sunday evening to make every effort to attend.

Penny for Hitching Post

GLENDAL, Ariz. (AP)—Gayle Cate and Bobby Wagoner, both 13, don't ask for any favors when they ride into town. The two rode in on their horse Sugar to buy supplies. Dismounting, they hitched him to a parking meter and dropped a penny in the slot. Standing nearby, patrolman Orval Wilmer mused aloud to bystanders, "Wonder where I'll put the ticket in case the horse oversteers the time?" But he didn't have to worry. The boys got their saddle soap and were mounted in plenty of time.

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The Need to Be Unsure

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: I am 20 years old and love a Jewish boy. My parents are Christians. They won't let him come to the house and my mother says I will kill her if I marry him. She is always at me to talk to our minister but I already know he will say what she wants him to. ANSWER: Look up the phone number of your local Family Service agency and say, "I need a social worker's help because I am not sure I want to do it." You're not sure, are you?

Then BE unsure. Be exactly what you are. Don't let anybody's pushes force you to a decision before you want to make it. Now I'm going to say something you may hate me for saying. It's this: A young person of your age who marries someone of a different religion often marries his difference instead of the man.

That's because she is so shocked by her family's refusal to credit her attachment with any goodness. As they all treat it scornfully, she sinks into despair of ever being able to reach their understanding. Isolated, frightened, she will knowingly or unknowingly begin to think of her family as so cruel and so bigoted that the religious values they stand for become

2 Lectures Head Institute on Alcoholism Slate

The institution on alcoholism that will be held in Kingston's Benedictine Hospital on Nov. 1, will have as its focal point the morning session of two lectures followed by a question and answer period.

The opening lecture will be presented by a prominent State official, Richard G. McCarthy, director of the Division of Alcoholism, New York State Department of Mental Hygiene. Prior to his present position, McCarthy served since 1944 as a teacher and administrator of alcoholism-oriented programs at Yale University.

The theme for his lecture and also for the entire institute is "Alcoholism — A Community Problem."

The second lecture, "The Multidisciplinary Approach in the Treatment of Alcoholism" will be presented by Ruth Fox, MD. Dr. Fox, a practicing psychoanalyst, is recognized nationally as a leading expert in alcoholism therapy. She is the medical director of the National Council on Alcoholism. A number of her books on the subject have been published by Random House and Basic Books. Included among her many credentials is her current standing as Fellow in the New York Academy of Medicine, and the Academy of Psychoanalysis. She is a former head of the Department of Laboratories, Neurological Institute, New York City. Also noted as a public speaker, Dr. Fox has delivered more than 100 lectures annually across the nation, to medical and lay groups.

The institute's schedule provides a question and answer period following Dr. Fox's lecture. Lunch will then be served in the cafeteria from 1 to 2 p. m. The afternoon session will consist of three workshops with distinguished panel members and moderators dealing with three aspects of alcoholism—in the home, in industry, and in the community.

Reservations should be made before Oct. 20 by contacting the institute sponsor, the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, 27 E. O'Reilly Street, Kingston.

It added that the Southern states are "still ignorant of the fact that a man can never be judged by the color of his skin."

White Plains Defeats Kingston High Grid Squad, 33-13

Loss Is First Of the Season For Maroon Team

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

White Plains High School broke a close game with a pair of touchdowns midway through the second period and went on to beat visiting Kingston, 33-13 Saturday at the Westchester County gridiron. The loss was the first for the locals after a win and a tie. White Plains now has a 1-1 mark after defeating the locals for the third straight time.

Fullback Charles DuBois, who is built like a fireplug, was the big ground gainer and leading touchdown maker for the home side. DuBois tallied the first two touchdowns, one on a four yard slant and the other on a run of eight yards. Halfback Phil Corley tallied once on a 24 yard pass from quarterback Bob McWhinnie. The other touchdowns were the result of a 30 yard run by halfback Ray Gilberti and a neat 65 yard gallop by defensive end Art Passarella after he intercepted a pass.

Kingston, which moved the pigskin well all afternoon, tallied in the second period when fullback Guy Bush went in from the three. The visitors added their final score in the closing moments of play when reserve quarterback Paul Gruner passed for 12 yards to end Jim Plunkett.

The home side tallied the first time it had possession, moving 52 yards in 10 plays. DuBois was the leader with runs of 23 and eight yards before finally hitting paydirt from the four. However, he was stopped on his try for the extra point.

Coach Bill Burke's charges took the ball on the White Plains 46 late in the first quarter when end Paul Natale recovered a WP fumble. It took the locals only seven plays to score. The big gainer was a 28 yard pass play from quarterback Richie Hart to Natale, who made a good catch on the four. Bush cracked over on the second try to knot the count.

Ahead For Good

The winners took the kickoff on the 20, moved it to the 38 and then proceeded to grind out 62 yards in six plays to move ahead for keeps. DuBois and Corley took turns in carrying the mail with DuBois skirting his own left end for the TD. Corley plunged in for the PAT.

Halfbacks Bob Kennedy and Tom Auringer tried to get the losers back in the game when they took turns in moving the pigskin from the 43 to the 26. However, the White Plains line stopped the bid.

After an exchange of punts, the KHS squad started a series of plays from the 24. However, a fumble was recovered by the home side at that point. On the initial play, McWhinnie threw to Corley down the middle. He grabbed the ball from between a pair of defenders and went the distance. This touchdown moved the home side ahead, 20-6, as Corley added the point.

Kingston threatened to score early in the third quarter, moving to the WP 11 before losing the ball on downs. From there, the powerful home squad moved 89 yards, climaxing the drive when Gilberti circled in for the final 30 yards. An attempted pass for the point was incomplete.

Pass Goes Astray

It took exactly two plays for the Plains eleven to score again. Passarella intercepted a pass on his 35, moved across the field to pick up a couple of blocks and then went the rest of the way untouched. McWhinnie ran in for the point to make it a 33-6 rout.

With Gruner at the helm, it took the locals 10 plays to move 73 yards for the final score of the game. Auringer was the big ground gainer and the touchdown came on Gruner's pass to Plunkett in the left corner. The play covered 12 yards. Paul plunged for the point.

The game ended with White Plains in control of the pigskin near the midfield mark.

New York Lefty To Hurl Against Juan Marichal

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Trailing two games to one, San Francisco's Giants found themselves in the familiar role of having to battle back in today's fourth World Series game to pull abreast of the New York Yankees.

The Giants are noted for their ability to come from behind, but this time their task is doubly difficult. Not only are they in enemy territory, where they managed to collect but four hits off right-hander Bill Stafford in a 3-2 defeat Sunday, but they must face Whitey Ford, the most successful pitcher in World Series history.

The brilliant Yankee southpaw will be seeking his second triumph of this series and his 11th since he posted his first victory in 1950. He defeated the Giants in the opener, in their own ball park, 6-2.

Giant manager Alvin Dark, still confident his team can overtake the Yankees, nominated Juan Marichal, who never before has pitched in a World Series.

The right-hander from the Dominican Republic, who posted an 18-11 record during the regular season, said a foot injury which sidelined him for nearly two weeks in September, was "still a little sore," but he did not expect it to handicap him.

The odds-makers have established the Yankees a 7½-to-5 favorite to win today and 4-1 to take the series. Today's weather forecast is fair with increasing cloudiness late in the day.

Same Lineups
Manager Ralph Houk planned to use the same lineup against right-hander Marichal he employed against left-hander Billy Pierce Sunday. The Yankees broke through Pierce's guard in only one inning but that was enough.

Three straight hits in the seventh—more than they got in the other seven innings—helped produce three runs and put Pierce out. The hits, singles by Tommy Tresh, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, were hard smashes, but three glaring mistakes helped the Yankee cause and pin the defeat on the 35-year-old southpaw.

Felipe Alou's error on Mantle's left-field single permitted Tresh to advance a base to third with Mickey taking second on the throw. Willie McCovey's failure to hold Maris' two-run single to right field permitted Roger to take second, from where he advanced to third on Ellie Howard's fly to Willie Mays.

Don Larsen, who had relieved Pierce following Maris' hit, plunked Bill Skowron on the back with a pitched ball. Then came the play on which the winning run scored, although there was no way for anyone in the sellout crowd of 71,434 to suspect it was the clincher.

Missed Double Play

Clete Boyer bounced to Jose Pagan. The shortstop flipped to second base for a force on Skowron but Chuck Hiller momentarily bobbled the ball, then got off a weak throw to first, a fraction of a second too late for the double play. Maris crossed the plate with the third run.

Dark planned to make only one change from the lineup that could get only four hits against the strong pitching of Stafford. Two came in the ninth, when the Giants scored their only runs on Ed Bailey's two-out home run on top of Mays' double.

Harvey Kuenn, who failed to hit in five tries against Ford in the opener, returned to the outfield but was placed in right field with Alou remaining in left.

Wappingers Tops Roosevelt, 34-12

Wappingers Falls took to the air Saturday at Roosevelt and swamped the home side, 34-12, in a DCSL tilt. The winners scored three touchdowns in a second period blitz and added two touchdowns in the third period.

Roosevelt, which has now lost two straight after an opening victory, tallied in the third and fourth periods.

The linescore:
Wappingers 2 21 13 0-34
Roosevelt 0 0 6 6-12

It was in the seventh that lefty Billy Pierce ran into trouble after pitching a fine two-hitter up to that point.

Tom Tresh opened the seventh hitting a low inside fast ball for a single up the middle. Then pass from Eugene Ventriglia Only a minute later, Ventriglia scored and then two minutes after the second rally, George Vizvary knotted the score at 3-3 by putting the ball into the net.

The three goals in as many minutes took the heart out of the home side.

Dirks shot the locals ahead for keeps with his second goal and then left wing Al DiBella made it 5-3 at the 30 minute mark, giving the locals a good margin at halftime.

Both sides had opportunities early in the second half but it wasn't until the 22 minute period that DiBella scored a goal, making it 6-3. Then the skillful Al Miller kicked in the last goal for Kingston. The home side rallied late in the game to score twice, marking the first time of league competition that a club had scored five goals in a game against Kingston.

The big upset in league action yesterday was the Little Falls 5-3 triumph over the Poughkeepsie Blue and White. In other games, Albany Athletic Club walloped the Albany Sons of Italy, 13-2; Schenectady Football Club beat Albany Sport Club, 5-4 and Troy Sport Club beat the Troy Italians, 4-2.

Giants Confident They Will Bounce Back and Win Series

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—San Francisco's Giants found Yankee Stadium as tough for them as the Yankees themselves yet remained confident today they would beat both in the World Series.

As the Yankees scored three times in the seventh inning en route to Sunday's 3-2 decision, both Felipe Alou in left field and Willie McCovey in right drew errors fielding hits.

Catcher Ed Bailey declared it was tough to see in this park, adding, "I've never seen Felipe have trouble in the outfield."

There was gloom in the Giants' dressing room but no more than after a regular season loss during this hectic 1962 campaign.

Harvey Kuenn who plays right field today in this fourth game, said "we bounced back before and we have confidence we can do it again."

Despite having some trouble seeing the ball in Yankee Stadium, Bailey hit the two-run home run that gave greater significance to a bad bounce, a pitching mistake and a near miss.

Pierce Has Trouble
It was in the seventh that lefty Billy Pierce ran into trouble after pitching a fine two-hitter up to that point.

Tom Tresh opened the seventh hitting a low inside fast ball for a single up the middle. Then pass from Eugene Ventriglia Only a minute later, Ventriglia scored and then two minutes after the second rally, George Vizvary knotted the score at 3-3 by putting the ball into the net.

The three goals in as many minutes took the heart out of the home side.

Dirks shot the locals ahead for keeps with his second goal and then left wing Al DiBella made it 5-3 at the 30 minute mark, giving the locals a good margin at halftime.

Both sides had opportunities early in the second half but it wasn't until the 22 minute period that DiBella scored a goal, making it 6-3. Then the skillful Al Miller kicked in the last goal for Kingston. The home side rallied late in the game to score twice, marking the first time of league competition that a club had scored five goals in a game against Kingston.

The big upset in league action yesterday was the Little Falls 5-3 triumph over the Poughkeepsie Blue and White. In other games, Albany Athletic Club walloped the Albany Sons of Italy, 13-2; Schenectady Football Club beat Albany Sport Club, 5-4 and Troy Sport Club beat the Troy Italians, 4-2.

Some Tidbits On the Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Every time

Roger Maris comes up to bat in the World Series, he sees three infielders to the right of second base....Does it bother the New York Yankee outfielder?... "naw," he said today, "it's all right with me if they want to do it that way....But if they pitch me inside I'll hit the ball over their heads." ...that's just what he did in the seventh inning in the Yankees' 3-2 victory over San Francisco....The hit was a key single.

Said Yank Manager Ralph Houk before today's fourth game: "I can't recall a World Series in which the first three games had so much good pitching."....Which led some observers to conclude that the slumbering sluggers were due to break out.

You'd think the crowds here would be strictly for the Yankees....But there's still a lot of lingering sentiment for the Giants....It appeared that at least half the spectators stood during the traditional seventh inning stretch for the Giants....They left New York after the 1957 season.

Willie Mays of the Giants, by the way, said it had been years since anyone asked him an original question. "If they asked me anything but the same old thing, I'd be hurt," he grinned.

UCAL Contest Walkkill Decisions Onteora Team, 32-14

Big Eddie Mooney put on a brilliant offensive show Saturday as Walkkill defeated visiting Onteora Central, 32-14, in a UCAL contest. The home side was forced to come from a 14-6 deficit against the fired-up Indians, who played their best game of the season.

Halfback Eric Stoutenburg started the Indians rolling in the opening period when he darted 70 yards on a dive play. John Phelan then ran for the extra point.

Mooney started the home side on the way back with some good passing and he scored the first touchdown for Walkkill with a five-yard jaunt. The extra point was missed.

Moments later, Ken Beesmer of the Indians intercepted a pass on the 35, ran up the left side and lateraled to Stoutenburg, who went the rest of the way. Eric then added the PAT.

Mooney's passing led the home side to a second period touchdown and when the point was made, it was a 14-13 squeaker at halftime.

Walkkill completely dominated the second half. Mooney did some more good passing to set up the go-ahead touchdown, scored by Dennis Mullen from the five. Two more touchdowns in the final period clinched the contest.

John Hammond and Beesmer, the two starting ends for the Indians, were injured and may be lost for the season. Seppo Retanen, the starting guard, was also hurt.

Onteora will host Pine Bush in a UCAL tilt Friday night at Dietz Stadium.

Liberty Wins, 21-7, Over Pine Bush Club

After spotting Pine Bush a first period touchdown, the powerful Liberty Central Indians scored twice before halftime and added a clinching tally in the third period to dump the visitors, 21-7, Saturday night and establish the role as favorites in the UCLAL race.

The hosts used the "home run" play to do their scoring. After Dan Biedermann had scored for Pine Bush in the opening period on a three yard plunge, climaxing a 60 yard drive, the home side got hot.

Halfback Warren Earl and Dave Garren collaborated on an 80 yard play in the second period with Garren carrying the pigskin over the goal line for the touchdown. John Elliott passed to Warren Earl for the PAT, knotting the count.

Later in the period, quarterback Elliott Sackler passed to end Richie Pelsang in the end zone. This play covered 22 yards and put the Indians ahead for keeps. Elliott hit Earl with a toss for the extra point.

Liberty was stopped on the Pine Bush two yard line just before halftime. However, in the third period, fullback Richie Yaun climaxed a long drive with a plunge into the end zone from the three. Yaun did most of the carrying in the march. The powerful fullback was tough to stop.

The Indians boosted their record to 3-0 for the season. They will meet Highland in a non-league encounter on Saturday.

Marlboro Grid Team Defeats Rondout, 28-0

Marlboro's unbeaten Ducks combined a good offense with a rock ribbed defense to hand Rondout Valley a 28-0 UCLAL setback Saturday at the loser's gridiron. The flashy visitors of Coach Jack Kroh scored three touchdowns in the first half and then coasted.

In the opening session, halfback Vince Caserto broke loose for a 40 yard touchdown sprint. Fullback Angelo Monte made the PAT on a play through the tackle slot.

Monte tallied the second touchdown, picking up the final six yards on a plunge. Caserto ran for the PAT. Shortly after, Caserto intercepted a Rondout pass and went 50 yards. Quarterback Steve Aurigemma made the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

Another intercepted pass, this time by Vito Celletta, the ace defensive center of the Ducks, closed out the scoring. Celletta ran back the errant toss 30 yards, Aurigemma passed to Tony Affuso for the final point. The visitors completely controlled the contest, having a wide edge in the statistics.

Veck to Purchase Washington Club

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A syndicate headed by Bill Veck has obtained an option to purchase the Washington Senators baseball club, it was learned today.

The deal is said to involve approximately $4 million. Other key men in the syndicate include Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg; Nate Dolin, currently vice-president of the Cleveland Indians; and Rudie Schaefer, business manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Ten stockholders currently own the Washington club, each with ten per cent. The Veck group is seeking to obtain complete control. Negotiations, under way for several weeks, may be completed next week when Veck leaves his Maryland home for New York to keep an appointment with Gen. Elwood Quesada, president of the Senators.

Veck, who would take over as president upon completion of the deal, has been out of baseball since he sold his 51 per cent interest in the White Sox to Arthur C. Allyn in mid-season of 1961.

Giannotti Paces Sawyers With 3 Touchdowns

Richie Giannotti, the hinge-hipped Saugerties High half-back, piled up three more touchdowns and the point happy Sawyers cruised to their 18th straight gridiron victory, 40-7, over visiting Highland Saturday.

Giannotti scored his touchdowns from close range. He plunged for two yards in the opening period, went over from the seven on an end sweep in the second period and tallied on an off tackle play from the five in the third stanza.

Coach Fred Seither also received scores from Al Gentner on a 10 yard sweep, Al Kane on a pass from quarterback Paul Buytkins and from Glen Davis on a one yard plunge. The Sawyers completely overwhelmed the visitors.

Giannotti's two yard plunge climaxed an 85 yard drive in the opening period. The big play was a 38 yard run with lateral with Gentner giving the ball to Buytkins. Giannotti also bucked for the extra point.

Saugerties widened the gap in the second period as Gentner went in from the 10 on a sweep to climax a short drive. Buytkins then passed to Kane for the PAT. Later in the same period, Buytkins and Kane worked a 19 yard scoring maneuver and Davis made the point on a buck up the middle. Just before halftime, Giannotti went into the end zone from the seven.

Add To Total
Leading by a 27-0 count at the half, the Sawyers started another drive in the third period. Giannotti ended it when he scored from the five. The extra point was missed, one of the few things the Sawyers did wrong all afternoon.

The final score came in the fourth period as Davis hit up the middle from the one to finish a 50 yard drive. Joe Ollinger then passed to Earl Martin for the PAT.

Highland scored just before the end of the game when Dick Johnson carried from the two. Johnson then received a pass from quarterback Fred Ellis for the extra point.

Coach Fred Seither cited the win as the result of a good team effort, especially on defense. The defending champs will play another DCSL tilt on Saturday at Cardinal Farley Military Academy.

Englishman Finishes First In Grand Prix at Watkins Glen

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—Jim Clark of England, with the one he had to win behind him, set his sights today on the Grand Prix of South Africa in his uphill quest of the world drivers' championship.

Clark, who has only a mathematical chance of catching Graham Hill, also of England, in the race for the driving title, took a giant step forward Sunday with his victory in the U.S. Grand Prix.

The 26-year-old gentleman farmer drove his Lotus over the 230 miles of the U.S. Grand Prix in 2 hours, 7 minutes, 13 seconds, a record 108.61 miles per hour. He had a nine-second edge on Hill, who was second.

Gersmann Gets Only Goal in Upset Victory

Gregor Gersmann, a native of West Berlin, Germany and now a resident of Rockville Center, scored from the side with a hard shot in the second period and the tenacious New Paltz Hawks upset highly rated Oneonta, 1-0, in a hard fought soccer battle Saturday at the winners' field.

The contest, played on a muddy field, was a defensive duel with the Hawks having the better of it. Goalie Tom Clarke of New Paltz had only eight saves while the Oneonta goalie had to stop 15 chances.

The Hawks dominated the contest in the first half and they finally broke through for the only score at the 1:10 mark of the second period when Gersmann took the ball at midcourt, went up the side and then booted in a hard shot.

With a 1-0 lead, the home side protected it during the third and fourth periods, averaging a setback suffered at Oneonta last season.

Permit Quotas To Be Filled Early This Week

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Conservation Department reports that the quota of party permits, which allow groups of hunters to take an additional deer during the state's big-game hunting season, will be filled early this week in four areas of the state.

Albert G. Hall, chief of the department's Bureau of Game, said Saturday that permits for all areas in the Catskills and for all of Western New York were expected to be exhausted in a day or two.

The quota in Sullivan County was filled last week.

Under the party-permit system, groups of four hunters may take a buck or doe in addition to the one deer legally allowed each member of the party. In Sullivan County, permits are issued to groups of two hunters.

Hall said the record rate at which applications were being received "indicates that sportsmen approve the permit system as an effective method to control the size of the deer herd while providing additional hunting opportunities."

Three Brothers had games of 1729, 1079 and 964 for 3,172. The scores:

SIGN COLLEGE SITE PETITION — The Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor of Atoneement Lutheran Church, Saugerties, signs petition for reconsideration of the Winston Site for the Ulster County Community College at a rally and tour at the property Sunday afternoon. Vincent Amrod, left, chairman of the educational committee of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, looks on as others wait to sign petition. (Freeman photo)

Many Tour Site Offered for CC In Saugerties

More than a thousand people turned out Sunday for the rally at the Winston Farm property which was offered as a site for the Ulster County Community College and rejected by a 5 to 4 vote by the College Board of Trustees in favor of a site at Stone Ridge.

A petition which was prepared for 510 signatures was completely filled with numerous persons expressing regret that their names could not be added, due to lack of space, to show they favored the site in preference to the one chosen.

Visitors also toured the 24-room stone house which was included in the site donated by Ferdinand Schaller. The property consists of 80 acres with a private reservoir on the grounds and borders the pipeline which carries water to the Village of Saugerties from the Blue Mountain Reservoir.

Vincent Amrod, chairman of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Educational committee, was present to answer all questions. Following the rally, which lasted four hours rather than the anticipated one hour, Amrod noted that signers to the petition came from Stone Ridge, Palenville, Kingston, Woodstock, Pine Plains, Coxsack, Greenvale, Catskill and many other places in addition to Saugerties. The petition will be sent to Lawrence Murray, secretary to the State University Board of Trustees in Albany with a letter of explanation from the chamber. Amrod further said that a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce will be in attendance at next Thursday's meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

Togetherness Fades
BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Maintenance and custodial crews in Bradenton schools take pride in cooperating to keep the building in top-notch shape. The "togetherness" faded one day when a skunk was discovered under an elementary school. Each decided varmint removal was the other's task.

Dismiss Charges Against Minister

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Stuart H. Merriam, ousted pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church here, committed "foolish and indiscreet offenses against truth," a nine-member church commission has found, but it dismissed those charges against him.

The commission ruled that the charges of untruthfulness and tale-bearing "were insufficient to warrant a judicial trial." But stressed that its declaration was "a dismissal, not an acquittal."

The commission said it was influenced by a desire to exercise its authority "under a dispensation of mercy and not of wrath."

The Rev. Theodore Meth of Newark, N.J., who defended Dr. Merriam, said Saturday's commission action did not mean the ousted pastor would be restored to his pulpit at Broadway Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Merriam said of the decision, "I'm still standing in the wilderness... but I'm not lost." He added: "We'll appeal the administrative decision (by the Presbytery of New York) that ousted the elders and myself."

One charged against Dr. Merriam was that while he was conducting a telephone conversation with a U.S. State Department official regarding Iran, he allowed an Iranian student to eavesdrop. He also was accused of disclosing contents of the conversation to the press.

Plan Wide Search For Congressman Missing in Plane

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (AP)—A search of the rugged northern California coastline was planned today for a missing plane carrying U.S. Rep. Clem Miller.

A light, twin-engine airplane with the California Democrat aboard was last heard from Sunday afternoon in bad weather over this seacoast town about 20 miles south of the Oregon border.

Pilot George Head of San Rafael, Calif., radioed he would make an instrument landing a few moments before the plane vanished on a 240-mile flight from Santa Rosa, Calif. Head's son Ronald, 13, also was aboard.

The 45-year-old Miller represents California's 1st District, in northern California. He was campaigning for his third term.

Haines Property Selected as Site For High School

A site for a proposed new senior high school in the Hyde Park-Staatsburg School District, has been selected by the district Board of Education.

Ray F. Barnum, board president, said Saturday night the board's decision was to select the Haines property on the south side of South Cross Road near Route 9G. The board president said architects will proceed with plans for the school, and expressed the hope a bond issue can be presented to the voters by mid-December.

Voter approval of the school project would make possible the opening of the new school by January, 1965.

Barnum noted that the district already has more than 700 senior high school students in facilities designed to accommodate less than 600, and nearly 900 junior high school students in overcrowded facilities.

The board president said that projected population growth in the eastern and northern sections of the district, water supply, site development, traffic and transportation consideration and future site useability were all factors in selection of the Haines property.

U.S. Congressmen traveling to and from the Capitol are not subject to local traffic laws. They are granted constitutional immunity.
